Jabodetabek, as the urban agglomeration consisting of DKI Jakarta, Bogor, Depok, Tangerang and Bekasi, is the second fastest growing megacity on the planet. Current projections show that Jabodetabek's population will reach 38 million people in 2030. This means that in 2030 the future megacity might have expended so much, and in this process overtaking many adjacent cities, that it's called Jabodetabekasepususesuci.
