

Foreword

This book presents a collection of photographs taken by us, architecture students, during our field trip to Tallinn Estonia. The city was chosen as the location for the graduation studio due to its rich blend of scales, layers, and (hi)stories, creating a dynamic environment for exploration and development.

The photos reflect our perspectives, interests, and the moments where we slowly discovered the city and its diverse urban fabric.

Join us on a journey of discovering and falling in love with the many layers Tallinn has to offer.

When Tides Sing

*A dance between the tides, a silver-lining story.
Seasons determines change
Ever so fleeting, yet consistent.*

*For long we couldn't see you
Over the years you came nearer,
Borders gradually opened
Until you finally reached us.*

*Now, we are unsure,
How to feel around your presence.
Can we take a moment?*

A Quiet Reverie

*A place abandoned but left intact
Slowly falling apart*

Histories found between layers and bricks, stories untold. A battle between cherishing its history and the tendencies it brings.

A love story, in its most brutal version.

Life in Transition

*Ever so moving,
Without any change*

Crossing each other Endlessly

*Until our paths
Intertwine*

Fleeting Intimacies

From passing by to standing still Our gaze changes :

Seek the detail Unnoticed at first

*The fleeting moments
Turn into lifetimes worth cherishing*

Captured for eternity.

Layered Whispers

*Within the sounds come the stories
Within the stories comes the fairytale*

A growing love towards the city

*A new perspective to create
A new future to cherish.*
