AesthetiCo. is not responsible for...

- Financial troubles due to the capital investment
- And e.g. not being able to repair the TV
- Extramarital affairs due to your spouse using it
- And subsequently finding someone better
- Alcoholism due to lack of entertainment, debt,
- And mediocrity of expression.

THE NEXT TOOL every designer needs. Have a deadline coming up? Worried about your superior criticizing everything to the ground? Fret no more, Aesthetimeter is the answer! This state of the art technology will drive your design from the Dark Ages into the Renaissance, it will speed up your performance TENFOLD and will make you come home to your wife and kids a satisfied man!

The Aesthetimeter makes use of signals similar to radio waves, to access algorithms modeled after the human brain. By means of millions of data points, it is trained to recognize patterns in your architecture. It then weighs these patterns according to their aesthetic qualities. This way, you can gauge the future success of your building, merely by having the device work in the background. Aesthetimeter is the future!
