Demand One

ACKNOWLEDGE THE IMPACT

The science is clear. We are on a trajectory to climate catastrophe and the status-quo of the building industry is one of its drivers. With 38 percent of the worldwide Co² emissions, the impact of the sector is contributing to an increase in suffering, death, and demise to a growing number of humans, and non-humans on this planet. While this is a fact, governments, developers, and architects are continuing to erect new destructive concrete high-rise towers and refuses to initiate the necessary change in the building industry. We therefore demand a halt of all construction projects in the city and urge for their re-evaluation.

Demand Two

ENCACE IN DIRECT ACTION

We challenge the powers, that refuse to acknowledge the impact of the building industry on the networks of life. We do so by engaging in non-violent direct action, to pressure for radical systemic change. We therefore demand from citizens, architects, activists, and city makers to join us in civil-disobedient action.

Demand Three

BUILD FOR LIFE

The city that we engage in, is dominated by economic forces, which destroy livelihoods. We want a city, that is build for life, for human and non-human actors, not for the extraction of capital. This change from financial interest to a valuable city is what we aim for. We therefore demand for a radical change in building policy, that puts the values of life over the financial interests of the economy.

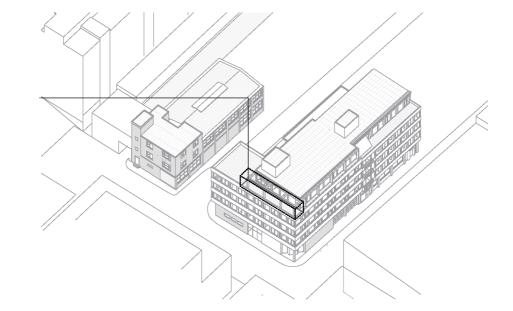

Demand Four

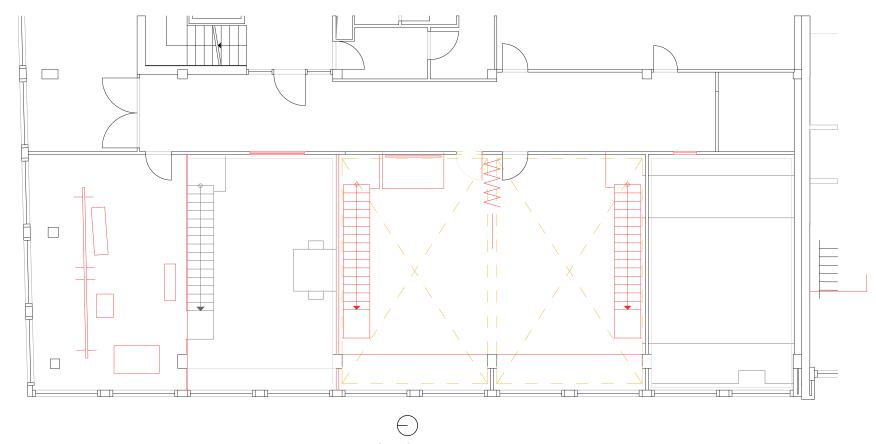

ACT IN /OLIDARITY

An action for networks for life, is an action for justice, and we are in solidarity with the voices of the oppressed and marginalized. We stand with minorities of the FLINTA, BIPOC, and LGBTQI+communities and advocate for the unheard voices of the non-human actors in the city. We therefore demand from government and policy-makers to include the voices in the transition to a just legislation for the city.
